

WILL BE TRIED IN HUSTINGS COURT

Washington Will Be Indicted for Stabbing West to Death.

HIS WIFE TRIES TO END LIFE

Jumps Into River and Is Rescued by Passers-By—Bright Outlook for Fair.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 5 Hollingsworth Street, (Telephone 1485).

Petersburg, Va., August 20.—Napoleon Washington, the negro who on Saturday night stabbed Albert West, a white man, to death in a Petersburg bridge, was this morning sent to the Hustings Court to answer for his crime. He will be indicted and tried for murder in the first degree. The killing was the result of West's interference as peace-maker between Washington and his wife, who was beating on the bridge. This was the statement made by several eyewitnesses of the affair.

Washington took the stand and swore that he was attacked by West, and that the killing was done in self-defense, and that the stabbing was done with West's own pocketknife, which he wrested from West's hand. There were seven stab wounds on West's body, the fatal wound being in the heart. A small knife, with the blade half-open, was found in a pocket. How it got there is a mystery, and West could hardly have put it there after being stabbed to the heart.

Attempted Suicide.—This morning after Washington's case had been disposed of in the Police Court, Nora Washington, the wife of the accused man, attempted to end her life by jumping in the river. She was clinging on the footbridge, on her return to her home in Petersburg, when the jump was made, very near the scene of Saturday night's fatal affair. Several persons who were nearby rushed to her rescue, and succeeded in getting her out of the water and taking her home. Distressed over the predicament into which her husband had gotten himself was the cause of her act.

Church Corner-Stone.—The corner-stone of the new St. Stephen's (colored) Episcopal Church on Halifax Street will be laid Thursday afternoon with Masonic ceremonies, conducted by Sheba (colored) Lodge. The address on the occasion will be delivered by the Rev. F. W. Read, rector of St. John's Church. The new church will cost about $10,000, and will be a handsome structure of modern architecture. The congregation of St. Stephen's recently sold their church property on Perry Street to the British-American Tobacco Company for a handsome sum, and thus enabled to build a fine new edifice.

Personal and General.—Miss Maude Lillian Mabry and Lonnie Maynor, both of this city, were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. F. W. Moore, at his residence.

Miss Ethel V. Wilson and George W. Bryant, both of this city, were married in Washington yesterday.

John L. Newman, formerly of Petersburg, now of Newark, N. J., accompanied by his wife and daughter, is visiting at the home of T. E. Stroud on Liberty Street.

Wm. Koenig, W. J. Bahily and John Heagan left yesterday on an automobile trip through the State of New York.

The Rev. W. H. Atwell, D. D., and Miss Atwell has returned from a trip of several weeks to Asheville, N. C., and vicinity.

Misses Grace and Madeline Burke have returned from a trip to the States, and are visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. Burke, on Washington Street.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Lucy Gray Dunlap, of Richmond, took place this morning from Old Blanford Church.

Bright Outlook for Fair.—The prospects for the fair of the Roundtable Agricultural Association, to be held in this city in October, are in the highest degree encouraging. The farmers throughout this section are deeply interested and enthusiastic in the fair and promise an exhibition of their best stock and the best products of the farm. The association has made many improvements on the grounds since last year, and in a few days will have a fine attractive catalogue of the coming fair. The fair promises to be a splendid exhibition of the products and manufactures of Roundtable Virginia.

Annual Report of Health Officer.—The annual report of the Department of Public Health for the year ending June 24, has just been issued. The total number of deaths recorded at the office for the year was 611—whites 216, colored 395, males 310, females 301. There were 104 deaths of children under five years of age, and 128 deaths of persons of more than sixty years. This is the smallest number recorded for any year of the past six, and as our population is increasing, clearly indicates a considerable reduction in even the most vulnerable classes under the age of five, and above, there were recorded sixty-three.

deaths of non-residents. There are included also the deaths that occurred at the Almshouse and the Sanatorium.

For the whole population, as estimated by the Federal Census Bureau, excluding non-resident deaths, the city's death rate was twenty-one per 1,000 per year.

There were eighty-three deaths during the year from tuberculosis in its various forms—about the average for the past ten years. There were fifty deaths of typhoid fever, with fifteen fatalities. These deaths occurred from diphtheria, but none from small pox.

During the year 632 birth certificates were registered at the health office—whites 335, colored 297. This number is not believed to accurately represent the total births in the city.

STAND COLAPSES; FIVE BADLY HURT

speech of acceptance attacked the Republican party on the grounds that it had fostered special privileges to the point of making men everywhere socialistic in theory if not in conduct.

In this connection, he said: "It is idle for a thoughtful man in America, whether a millionaire or pauper, to longer play the ostrich. Safety does not consist in hiding one's head in the sands of either sentiment or hope. It is foolish for the vast majority to keep on insisting that more shall be added to their rights through a specious system of special legislation ostensibly enacted to run the government, in reality enacted to loot the people."

Worse than ignorance for them to smile at the large body of intelligent Americans who regard themselves as fortunate if the debit and credit accounts of life balance at the end of the year, and to assume that the majority, who are becoming convinced that this social system that call democracy is but a glittering generally, will long endure the industrial slavery being produced.

Men Becoming Socialistic.—Whether bolting the ticket or not, men everywhere looking upon the awful injustice of this economic system are becoming socialistic in theory if not in conduct.

(And shall any fair-minded man say that it rebounds to the interests of the people of this country that a hundred men shall control its business for the good of everyone, that there is no such thing as a free lunch, that government, instead of transferring business to a favored few for the benefit of all should itself discharge that business for the benefit of all.)

Do not hesitate to say that it is impossible to restore this republic to its ancient ideals, which I do not believe, and I must make the ultimate choice between the paternalism of the few and the socialism of the many, counting me and my house with the counting heart of humanity.

"The present-day Republican ranks are Democratic in disguise. The rank of it has reached the point where, wearied with the bad workings of a good system, it is willing to topple that system over and try something new."

"But I do not think that whatever badges men may wear in America this year, whatever ballots they may cast and whatever battle cries they may utter, there are but three grades of citizens."

Three Grades of Citizens.—The first grade is made up of the favored few, the oligarchy, and their beneficiaries, who think the eagle is upon the dollar, not as an emblem of liberty, but as an emblem of power, and who look upon government as an annex to their business affairs; these are they who in the past years of Republican misrule have turned the temple of our national freedom into a money-changer's market and have made of the coordinate branches of the government obedient lackeys of the jingling guinea.

The second grade consists of those who look upon life as a struggle, under the school and the college, by the press and the magazine, who appreciate the good things of life, whose horizon has been enlarged, and whose hearts are for joy and sorrow have been increased.

"Conditions have become unbearable to them. They have reached the point where, in the struggle for that which they believe to be right, they are willing to destroy the ideals of a republic. How many of these there are, I do not know, but I do know that special privilege in the republic is breeding them day by day like rabbits in a warren."

The third grade of citizens it pleases me to call old-fashioned constitutional Democrats. These are they who believe that the equality of mankind does not consist in an equality of brain and brawn, but in an equality whereby every man, born and foreign-born has an inalienable right to exercise all of his ability in getting on in the world just so he reaches that in getting on he owes it to himself to his family and to the republic to see that he gets on honestly, and that he does not prevent any other man from obtaining the reward of his honesty and enterprise.

KILLING AN OUTRAGE ON AMERICAN CITIZEN

Resolution Seeks Information on Shooting of Rogers in African Jungle.

Washington, D. C., August 20.—Representative Norris, of Nebraska, introduced a resolution to-day requesting the President to send to the House all information he has or "in the possession of the State Department in regard to the alleged killing of James W. Rogers, an American citizen, by British soldiers in Africa, and to inform the House of Representatives what action, if any, has been taken or is contemplated to investigate the killing of the said James W. Rogers."

The resolution was referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Rogers is a Californian.

Representative Sulzer, of New York, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, communicated with the State Department and was advised that the department was investigating the matter, and that all the facts that could be obtained would be furnished to the committee.

Mr. Norris said he regarded the shooting as an outrage on an American citizen so far as the available information shows. He declared that it seemed that Rogers, as an American, charged with offenses that did not warrant killing him, was fatally shot under iron-clad orders by the British government carried out on Belgian soil.

At the State Department, which has no direct information on the tragedy, it was stated that the House resolutions would have to be made the basis of an inquiry directly to the American embassy in London. The embassy, it was stated, would have no difficulty in securing access to the report to the British government on the tragedy.

Regarding the right of British soldiers to kill a poacher without trial, officials of the State Department would express no opinion to-day. The question reported to have been raised by Rogers as he was dying on the right of the British troops to attack him on Belgian soil complicated the case.

Though the issue involved would appear to concern Great Britain and Belgium, according to unofficial opinions of department heads.

If it should appear, they pointed out, that Rogers was killed in Belgian territory and there was only ground for demanding redress, the United States might look to Belgium, instead of Great Britain, for justice, leaving Belgium to seek reparation in turn from Great Britain.

News of South Richmond.

Phone Madison 135.

Scouring the surrounding country for three hours yesterday in an automobile, Captain A. S. Wright and Patrolman W. E. Waymack, of the Third District, were unsuccessful in their efforts to locate a negro accused of highway robbery. Several times they found that they were a few hours late. The man was heading for the railroad, and is thought to have reached Petersburg.

He is charged with holding up Mary Clark, colored, near her home at Twenty-second and Hull streets. He snatched $3 from her. The woman called for help, and seizing the man's hand, sunk her teeth into it. He released the money and made his escape. His description has been wired to several places, and every effort will be made to apprehend him. The crime was committed within a hundred feet of one of the busiest places on the South Side.

Think Cows Were Stolen.—Three cows—all valuable animals—have been reported as missing from the neighborhood of the Third District. The first of the cows was reported missing on Friday last. The second was reported missing on Saturday last. The third was reported missing on Sunday last. The cows were all reported as being stolen from the neighborhood of the Third District.

Have Dance at Yacht Club.—A delightful dance and supper was given last night at the Yacht Club on the James River at Falling Creek by the young people of the Southside. About twenty-five couples were present. The majority being former members of the old Manchester Cotillion Club. Between dances the young people enjoyed the cooling breezes from the veranda overlooking the river. Before retiring on the late car with him, they enjoyed an excellent luncheon.

Personal Mention.—Mrs. F. Ernest Warren, who has been visiting her parents in Havre de Grace, Md., has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Warren will spend the remainder of the week at Forest Hill.

Mrs. Zeb Williams is seriously ill at her home, 301 Bainbridge Street.

The condition of Russell Garnett, of 215 West Eighth Street, who fell from his bicycle last week and fractured his collar bone, is greatly improved.

Miss Margarette Bailey, of Layrenee, is the guest of Miss Olivia Gregory.

GENERAL BOOTH, SALVATION ARMY LEADER IS DEAD

Marshal Wolseley once declared that the British army had taken lessons in methods of organization, distribution and control from the salvationists.

General Booth's last message to his followers in America was written last June, while blindness was overtaking him.

"Pile up all my losses," he then wrote, "they are many and serious. I admit, but look at the mercies still left me. First, there is my confidence in God; I am not going to allow the existence of a few things which are in conflict with my judgment to interfere with my confidence in His wisdom—confidence that is inspired by His long knowledge of His loving care. Then I have not lost the assurance of my own heart relations with my heavenly Father. I have not lost the confidence and love of my own dear people; I have not lost the inestimable blessing of life."

"I want the continued loyalty of my own people and the hearty co-operation of all men and women whose hearts are fired with the same purpose as mine. In a few weeks' time I hope to be found once more on the march. Anyway my dear comrades, the light or in the dark, you may count upon your general to trust in God and go forward."

Surviving General Booth are several children, carrying on the work he started, most prominent being Bramwell Booth, the eldest son, who is acting as chief of staff in London and who is ordered to succeed his father as general of the army.

Two other sons, Herbert and Ballington Booth, are widely known in evangelical work, the latter having been particularly in the public eye because of a break with his father sixteen years ago, since when he has led an independent career, known as the Volunteers of America.

Of the daughter, in addition to Miss Beveling, who is commander in America, there is Miss Lucy, and Miss Mary, who worked with her father in London.

MEMORIAL SERVICES PLANNED.

Will Be Held Throughout Country Week From Next Sunday.

New York, August 20.—News of the death of General Booth in London was communicated to Miss Evangeline Booth, his daughter, at the Salvation Army headquarters here shortly after the receipt of the word to-night. Miss Booth, who is the head of the Salvation Army in America, suffered a complete nervous breakdown.

At the American headquarters of the Army, Miss Booth's staff of officers and her followers have been preparing for the news, and the word has been dispatched news throughout the country. At the same time a movement was launched for the holding of simultaneous service throughout the world a week from next Sunday, if possible to complete arrangements at that time.

The last visit which General Booth paid to America was on his eightieth birthday, four years ago, when he was accorded honors in many places.

Ballington Booth, who became evangelist from his father sixteen years ago and founded the independent organization known as the Volunteers of America, was at his home in the Point, L. I., to-night, when news of his father's death reached him. During the afternoon Mr. Booth and his wife had been notified of the general's sinking condition and they sent the following telegram to Chief Bramwell Booth in London:

"Love and sympathy to father and yourself."

(Signed) "BALLINGTON AND MAUD."

SERVICE TO BOOTH

Salvation Army in Richmond Notified of General's Death.

Adjutant E. Johnson, of the local Salvation Army, expressed deep sorrow last night when informed by a reporter for The Times-Dispatch of the death of General Booth. The first official news will be conveyed in a telegram from New York that will reach here this morning.

The press dispatch gave the first tidings of the death of the leader, although grave fears have been felt for the last few days, and special prayer services were conducted Monday night.

The life of General Booth will be the subject of the open-air meeting on Broad Street to-night, and a memorial service will be held at the association headquarters Sunday evening. It is expected that the same tribute will be rendered at that time throughout the United States.

Adjutant Johnson will call upon Gov. Mann and other state and city officials to obtain statements of regret.
